Proceedings of the National Farmers' Alliance Convention.

Solemn Proteils Enter'd Against the Passage of the Lodge Election Bill by the Senate.

Action Taken to Investigate Certain Charges of Bisconduct Frought Against Mc-Cune and Others.

OCALA . FLA, Dec. 3 .- The Farmers' Alliance convention met in regular sestion this morning. A resolution was adopted providing that a committee of one from each state delegation to investigate the conduct of Mr. McCune of the pational executive committee, L. F. Livingston, president of the Georgia state Alliance, and President Polk in reference to the Georgia senatorship, it haring been charged that these gentlemen were influenced in their action by a moneyed consideration. The committee Is empowered to investigate any other charges of which the officers may be ac-

Mr. Livingstune, rising to a question of personal privilege in convention, stated that the charges and rumors afferting him had been whispered, and of unfair deating in reference to the Georgia senatorship. He demanded a thorough investigation. He said that Mc-

McAllister took the floor in support of the resolutions, and at the end of a strong speech moved their adoption. As he sat down there was a stillness and a hush in the convention, which foreboded Everybody expected it to be from the Western or Northwestern delegates, but no storm came. After a few moments of suspension Delegate Deming of Pennsylvania arose and said he regarded the intro-duction of the resolution as un-There was largely prevalent at the North a feeling that the Farmers' Alliance was a Southern organization, its members being satinated with Southern sentiment, and the passage of these resolutions would strengthen this opinion and check the growth of the Alliance in the North and East. His language was very temperate, and a ripple of applause greeted the close of his speech.

President McGrath of the Kansas state Alliance moved the adoption of the rescions without reference to any committes and without debate, which was lost. President Hall of the Missouri state Alliance moved the resolution be tabled. but after a short interval, in which there were several short but temperate merches in favor of their passage, he moved to table the original motion, which was carried. The question then coursed on McAllister's motion to scient the resolution, and when the motion was finally put it was carried unanimously, amid the wildest enthusiasm. WARNING TO THE SENATE.

At the alternoon session Delegate W. S. McAllister of Mississippi introduced the tollowing preamble and resolution which was adopted:

Hitter Against Lotteries.

Ocala, Fla., Dec. 3 .- Aside from the adoption of the proposition of the election bill resolution the most important neton of the National Alliance at the altermoon session was the passing of the resolution denouncing the Louisiana lottery as a blow at American civilization and morals, and providing for the introduction in congress ject.
of a resolution cailing for Va any state. The resolution called out no opposition, and was adopted unant-mously, with little speech making. The delegates from Louisians all supported it henrilly. At the night session of the Alliance priation by congress of $9,000,000 in addition to the $1,000,000 already appro-

Late to-night it is learned on the best inside authority that formal charges have been preferred against Dr. Macune before the Alliance committee of investigation, presumably relative to the violation of the policy of the national Alli-

Co-Operation of Other Organizations Ad-

OCALA, FLA., Dec. 4.—The National Alliance received the National Colored Alliance in a body in convention batl. The visit was one of fraternal greeting and introduction. Glimpses of a third party movement appeared in the convention to-day. It is chiefly agitated by the Kansas delegation. Gen. John H. Rice, candidate for the Kansas senatorship, assisted by Capt. Powers of Indiana, is drawing up a call to be issued to the Farmers' Alllauce and industrial unions of America which favor the principles of the St. Louis platform to meet in convention in Cincinnati next February to consider the third party or peopie's movement. The name of this new party will be ''National Union party of This call is not expected to be issued before the close of the Ocala convention. The efforts seem to be to keep the National Farmers' Alliance from inaugurating a new party and vet to make it the main basis of this national party.

was devoted to the reading of the reports of its officers. A. H. Guilagher, fra-ternal delegate of the Workingmen's reform league of New York and W. H. Carey of Washington, delegates of the anti-monopoly league, addressed the convention. They advocated the close union of their organizations with the Alliance. POWDERRY COMING. John J. Holland of Jacksoville, Fla., is here, and it is now said that Powderly will arrive on the 2 p. m. train. This will make four members of the National executive board of the supreme council of Knights of Labor present, being all of that committee except Mr. Devlin of Michigan, and this fact is thought to be fraught with deep significance, appropos of third-party movement. There is said to be a strong feeling among the National Alliance members in favor of a general consolidation of all similar uational bodies It is alleged they have offered, in the event of such consolidation, to give all national political nominations to organizations outside of their own. There is, however, a conservative element which may hold more radical members in check.

THE THIRD PARTY MOVE. John Davis, congressman-elect from Kansas on the peoples' ticket, in an interview with an Associated Press representative this afternoon, with reference to a call for delegates to the national conference with a view of forming a new party, said that the date for the meeting would be set for February 23. "This call," he said, "was drawn by Professor Vincent and his two brothers, H. and L. Vincent, all of Winfield, Kas .. the two latter being editors and publish ers of the Non-Conformist. They were aided in their work by C. A. Power of Indiana and Gen. J. H. Rice of Kansas. They submitted a rough draft of call, and after making some few suggestions I asked them for the signsture. It ended with the Alliance platform adopted at St. Louis, and asked fraternal organizations in sympathy with the movement to send delegates to Cincinnatt. It has been extensively signed by Alliance members and by delegates of other organizations. '' When asked if the call touched upon other measures of public policy than the St. Louis platform, Mr. Davis said, reference to national reforms, viz., finance, transportation, land and labor. Further than this the contents of the call are not for public announcement. As yet the call will not be presented to the National Alliance for its indorsement as a body, but will be circulated for signatures in thirty-six Alliance states—perhaps in all the states of the Union There was a disposition to take the call before the National Alliance, but I and others discouraged it as a step which would doubtless result in giving the movement distinctively an Alliance character, and we do not wi h to so construe it. The convention will undoubtedly be largely attended, and will result in placing a presidential ticket in the field in 1892. After securing several hundred signatures in Kansas we published the call and thus started the movement. At the afternoon session a resolution was passed allowing three cents mileage each way and per ciem of $2 to all delegates to the national meeting.

Frank Murkit of Mississippi, from the special committee appointed to estimate the work of the convention, reported that, with no drawback or obstruction, that the labors of the Alliance would be completed by midnight.

A resolution was adopted restricting all speeches to five minutes and allowing no delegate to speak twice on the same sub-

Vance of North Carolina offered a res submission to the people of America of olution, which was passed, providing for amendment to the national constitution the appointment of one delegate from probibiting the operation of lotteries in each state Alliance to attend the immigration convention at Asheville, N. Rice of Kansas addressed | Kansas, representing the Citizens' Allithe convention on the improvement of since of that state, were introduced by the Missiesippi river by urging an appro- | Col. L. F. Livingstone of the Georgia Alliance, and all three made addresses, which in the main follow the same senti ment of thought and argument. They One delegate expressed the belief that said that their organizations were deeply interested in the success of the farmers' movement. Both bodies were practically working on the same line, and in the same direction. They saw no reason why the merchants, traders, druggists, etc., should not unite in promoting this movement, and they usked for a committee of conference to arrange for closer relations between the Citizens Atlance and National Alliance. The request was granted and a committee ap-

Mesers. Gailagher and Carsey, from the New York Workingmen's Reform League and Anti-Monopoly League respectively, both addressed the convention, and among other things said the mechanics and laborers in cities were as much dependent upon the industrial condition of the country as the farmers were, and should be eligible to membership in the Alliance. They recommended that Alliance organizers be sent to New York state at once to institute sub-

Alliances in all the cities of that state. Col. Livingstone of Georgia, in reply said he did not regard it as fitting or politic that the alliances of men, even imbried with general ideas, should belong to the same organization. They would rate organizations, as at present, but should fraternize more closely and confer together more frequently upon measures of public policy. The Farmers' Alliances desired no particular credit for having discovered that these reforms were necessary, nor for taking the lead in the matter. The masses of the country were practically in the same boat, and all should work together. The money power of this country, he continued, backed up by the money power of Europe and aided and encouraged by railroads and corporations is our common enemy. To meet this enemy and to cope with it successfully co-operation is a solutely necessary, and it must soon come about. I therefore recommend co-operation and fraternalism with other national bodies, but not consolidation.

The National Colored Alliance was announced as ready to be received for fraternal greeting, but the hour of noon having arrived a recess was taken, and it was postponed until the evening ses-

He advocated the coinage of silver and said the importance of the measure was indicated by five different members of congress introducing bills on this subject on the same day, each without previous knowledge of the other's Alliance Men in Florida.

OCALA, FLA., Dec. S .- At yesterday's session of the Farmers' Alliance a resolution was adopted enforcing the strictest secrecy on the members with reference to the transactions of the convention and providing for the appointment of a committee on press reports, which alone is authorized to give out information. Among other committees appointed was one on fraternal relations, which is a very important one, as its duty is to receive representatives of other national organizutions similar in character, with a view to securing concerted action in legislation, etc., and arriving at ultimate consideration of them all.

ATTACKED BY A BURGLAR.

Dr. Wheeler of the United States Marine Eospital and Mrs. Wheeler Frightful'y Cut-

NORFOLK, VA., Dec. 4 .- Surgeon William A. Wheeler of the United States marine hospital service, in charge of the marine hospital, and Mrs. Wheeler were seriously slashed with pleading for national country roads. His a razor in the hands of a negro burglar argument is that better roads are needed this evening. Mr. Wheeler was getting the best of the burglar, when the desperado drew a razor and began slashing right and left with terrible effect. Plucky Wheeler, seeing the danger in which her husband was placed in the now unequal fight, rushed to the rescue. She was soon a target for innumerable sashes from the now desperate burglar. Her breast, arms and other parts of her body soon laid open in gaping wounds Faint from loss of blood and weakening every moment, she did not lose her selfpossession, but rushing to her husband's room secured his pistol and handed it to him with an appeal to kill the man. By this time the negro had thrown the doctor off and was trying to make his escape. The doctor took the pistol and fired two shots, one of which found its mark The negro, however, made his escape, and up to the present time has no been contured, though the police were at once notified of the assault. A Furnace in Which Workmen Were Engaged Collapses, Killing Five and Injuring Fatally Others.

JOLIET, ILL., Dec. 4 .- A terrible accident accurred at the blast furnace department of the Illinois Iron and Steel company's works to-day. The furnace which was blown out for relining and repairs, made necessary by the recent explosion which was attended with loss of life, fell to the ground without warning when the men were engaged at work on it. Eleven men were at work on the inside, at the bottom, and about six on top, when the accident occurred. The masonry work and furnace linings were piled upon each other in a confused heap, mingled with dead and dving workmen. A band of willing labegan the work of recovery and rescue. Gathered about the man and urging them to renewed effort, were the waiting wives and children of the unfortunate men. Within half an hour they had succeeded in taking eight bodies out. Five of the unfortunates were dead, crushed almost out of semblance to human shape, while the other three were apparently fatally injured. The killed were: Gust Looss. Neis Larsons, John Penderson, Theodore Larson, Stais Freuck. Fatally injured: Thad Killien, Peter Erickson and August

TEXARKANA, TEX., Dec. 4 .- Napoleon McDaniel, convicted here recently of wrecking and robbing a Cotton Belt train and sentenced to imprisonment for life, escaped from jail last night, and up to this hour has eluded pursuit. His trial will be remembered, and pending the A Young Attorney of Lake Charles Meets bearing of his appeal to the supreme court he was in jail here under a double guard. Last night Jim Sharp, the guard, opened the front door of the jail corridor to go to bed. McDaniel, Base Barrifield and a man named Buckingham had succeeded in dislodging a bar in the cage door, and Sharp was felled by McDaniel, who

He found the julior saleep, but he quickly aroused, and in the scuffle for the possession of a pistol the jailor was the victor and marched Barrifield back to his cell. In the meantime McDaniel, accompanied by Buckingham, had made their escape, and the former, after making some triffing purchases at an adjacent store, went off leisurely and it is said heavily armed. The More the National Government Under takes to Do for Us the More Taxes We Must Pay.

Now comes a writer in the Tribune and therefore that the national government ought to take charge of the matter.

It is a beautiful argument, chiefly because it is so widely and miscellaneously applicable, like a patent adjustable tolding combination bedstead and soap dish, with a cook stove attachment and possibilities of use as a clothes line on

For example: Everybody who has visited Washington knows that the grounds of the agricultural department are much better laid out and cultivated than the average farm is. A Crazy Preacher Exhorts on the Streets of Ponham-Swallowed Poison-Epecial to the Gazette.

BONHAM, TEX., Dec. 3.-Yesterday young man, apparently about twentyone years old, came luto the city and commenced preaching on the streets, and to crowds anywhere. He claimed to be ordained to preach in 1860. He also claimed to have the power to perform miracles, and to take deadly poison without burt. To prove the case, he claims he bought a lot of strychnine last night, and after having gone to his hotel, he took a large quantity of it. Physicians were at once summoned and the proper antidotes given. His life was saved, and he is doubtless a little wiser, if not a little shaken to his faith. His name is L. M. Yatesert.
